ELEVEN BODIES ARE DRAGGED OUT

Extent of Whipple Mine Horror is Now Known

Gas Explosion Thought to Have Been Caused by Crossed Wires Far Under Ground.

MANY MINERS ARE RESCUED

Hinton, W. Va., May 2.—Eleven bodies were taken from the Whipple mine, where the gas explosion occurred last evening. It is thought this will be the extent of casualties. Rescuing parties are still searching, but it is thought all who were in the mine at the time are accounted for. It is now claimed the explosion was caused by crossed wires.

Hinton, W. Va., May 2.—Reports from the Whipple mine explosion today place the entombed men at 11 with little prospect that any are living. Fifty-one miners were able to crawl to the air shaft and climbed out the emergency stairway to the surface. Many were slightly and some seriously injured, but all will recover. The cause of the explosion is not known, but was probably the result of the firing of a heavy shot at the face of the workings.

She is a pupil of Mrs. Georgia Edwards.

MANY VOTERS OUT AT CITY PRIMARY

Candidates are Working Hard and Good Order Observed

Polls Opened Promptly at 6 O'clock and Close at 4 O'clock This Afternoon.

USE ALL KINDS OF VEHICLES

More interest than indications warranted is being manifested in the Democratic primary in Paducah today. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and no delays were occasioned. All election officers being on hand. Bidding started out fast. Buggies and automobiles are being overworked carrying voters to the polls. Many "tickets" have been printed, instructing voters "who is who." The municipal ownership ticket is one and a late ticket is gotten out by the saloon element known as the "open" ticket, meaning candidates are for an open town.

Yesterday the climax was reached, and last night many persons were on the street until a late hour discussing politics. At the Illinois Central shops yesterday candidates entered into a spirited debate, and speeches were made by outsiders not running for office. No trouble was reported, but as a precaution policemen were stationed in many portions of the city on special duty to prevent any trouble that might brew. Saloons are all closed.

The total Democratic registration in the city is 2,100 in round numbers.

The party is voting for candidates for mayor, city attorney, city treasurer, city clerk, city engineer, tax assessor, city jailer, five aldermen, seven councilmen and eight school trustees.

At noon over half the vote was polled. There was much challenging, but no disorder. All three of the candidates for mayor were claiming the victory. Col. Potter had no organization out, but both Davis and Harrison workers were busy all the time.

Ballots were exhausted at 12 o'clock at Gallman's precinct and all through the noon hour no voting was done. Several lost their votes on that account. There were 100 votes in at that time out of a possible 138.

Butler's precinct, 50 out of 138 votes.

South Side Fire Station, 63 out of 85 votes.

Schmidt's, 30 out of 68 votes.

Yancy's, 40 out of 60 votes.

Kirkpatrick's, 58 out of 145 votes.

Henneberger's, 74 out of 114 votes.

Plow Factory, 25 out of 51 votes.

Borri's, 130 out of 186 votes.

Warehouse, 59 out of 121 votes.

Glauber's, 65 out of 115 votes.

Roger's, 155 votes, the full register.

South Side Court House, 88 out of 100 votes.

North Side Court House, 91 out of 135 votes.

Diegel's, 78 out of 101 votes.

Savage's, 102 out of 148 votes.

Chalk's, 85 out of 93 votes.

Vehicles Are Busy.

The election today has been somewhat akin to the election days of yore. The candidates' buggies, with an energetic, eloquent silver tongued worker in each vehicle, were a feature of elections many years ago, or until their use was prohibited by law. Today, however, the streets have been thronged with them, and every available horse and rig of any description has been pressed into service. In former days the vehicles had great cards attached to the side indicating in whose interest they were being used, but, these tell-tale features are lacking today. There is no disputing the fact that they serve to get out the voters, and are appreciated by them.

Vote in Early.

At 11 o'clock half the registered vote was in, and election workers were laboring hard. Chief among them was Chief of Police James Collins, who is everywhere at once. Chief Collins was looking after voters, who were out of town and not registered; also those who were ill and unable to register. At 11 o'clock a total of 86 certificates had been issued by County Clerk Hiram Smedley.

CONTEMPT CASE TO BE TRIED HERE

September First Date Set For Hearing of Charge Against Col. Gus Singleton in United States Court

JUDGE EVANS' CHARGES TIME.

Gus G. Singleton will not be tried in federal court on the charge of alleged contempt of federal court until September 1, and the charge will be heard in Paducah before Judge Walter Evans. Colonel John K. Hendrick, representing Mr. Singleton, wrote to Judge Evans this week and told him it would be almost impossible for his side to be ready next Saturday, the date originally set for the hearing. Judge Evans replied yesterday and told Colonel Hendrick that if he and the attorneys on the other side could arrange a satisfactory date for the hearing, it would be agreeable to him. September 1 was agreed upon by the attorneys for both sides and that date is the first day of the fall term of federal court here. The change in date and scene of the hearing will save a large expense account for both sides.

London, May 2.—A dispatch liner is ashore at Goodwin Sands from Deal says a large Atlantic liner is ashore at Goodwin Sands. Tugs and life boats were unable to reach her.

Various ways have been devised to entertain the visiting doctors to the annual convention of the Southwestern Kentucky Medical association and the social feature this year will follow an idea that is growing popular in Paducah. MOLDERS BURNED BY MOLTEN METAL

Water in Liquid Brass Causes Explosion That Destroys Windows and Scatters Flaming Mass Over Shop

HELPERS LEGS ARE INJURED.

Robert Fisher, an Illinois Central molder, and his helper Harvey Parks, were burned yesterday by molten brass thrown in every direction by a steam explosion which blew out two windows and caused a short suspension of business in the shops.

Fisher was preparing to make a brass "run" and used a metal skimmer to take the dirt off the top of the molten metal. The skimmer got hot and a small depression was burned in its center. Fisher plunged it into a tub of water. When he took it out the depression was filled with water which he failed to notice. When he put it into the molten brass a terrific explosion resulted. Two windows were broken out by the concussion and molten brass was thrown in every direction.

Fisher's face was burned, and a hole burned into his scalp. His helper was burned about the legs. Fisher's overalls caught fire and were burned nearly off him before he could pull them off.

PRESSMEN STRIKE PAPERS TIED UP

St. Louis May 2.—A strike of pressmen on all the big dailies except the Times at noon today tied up the town and left it with but one metropolitan newspaper. Pressmen presented a new demand May 1, and although the contract calls for arbitration, violated it and struck. The Times, not a member of the Publishers' association, made independent arrangements with the pressmen.

NIGHT RIDERS IN ANOTHER OUTRAGE

Shoot into Citizen's Residence and Wound His Wife While She is Sleeping—Caldwell County Trouble

SHE IS NOT BADLY WOUNDED.

Princeton, Ky., May 2. (Special).—One of the most dastardly outrages perpetrated by night riders in this county took place when armed men rode to the residence of R. H. Hollowell, a prominent planter, 3 miles south of here, and fired into it, shooting Mrs. Hollowell in the face. The outrage was shortly after 2 o'clock this morning while the family was sleeping. The men disappeared and their identity is unknown. Today Mrs. Hollowell came to Princeton to have her wounds dressed. She does not appear to be seriously wounded, as the shots were small and obstructions destroyed their force. The house of a tenant of Hollowell's was fired into first but no damage was done. Hollowell's tenants sell to independent and trust buyers and Hollowell had been warned to beware of vengeance.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT MORNING BLAZE

Garner Furniture Company and Guy Nance Deluged

Department Does Excellent Work When Unavoidable Delays With Apparatus Are Overcome.

TWO HORSES HAVE PNEUMONIA

Timely discovery of fire in the third floor of the Guy Nance Undertaking establishment, 213 South Third street, this morning at 7:45 o'clock, by Frank Bailey, colored porter for Garner Bros' Furniture company next door, prevented a great property loss. As it was, the loss to the stocks of the two stores will approximate $10,000. The loss to the holdings will be several thousand dollars from damage by water. Insurance will cover all losses.

Smoke was seen curling down the stairway leading from the second to the third floor of Garner Bros' furniture store, by Frank Bailey, the porter. On investigation he tracked the smoke to the third floor of the Guy Nance establishment, and it was coming into the Garner store through a doorway. The third floor is occupied by the Garner store as a warehouse. Notifying them down stairs of the fire, Bailey endeavored to fight the fire himself but soon was driven back by the smoke.

He had the presence of mind to close the fire doors between the third floors of the two buildings, thus confining the fire to the Nance store. It is believed that this saved a far greater loss.

All the fire companies in the city responded promptly to the fire, though a delay was occasioned in the arrival of some of the apparatus by a shortage of horses. Chief Woods superintended the fight.

The aerial truck was serviceable in raising a ladder to the third floor of the Nance store where the fire originated. The dense smoke made it impossible for a half hour for the firemen to live inside the building, and the fire was fought from the windows. Many of the firemen were relieved frequently, being overcome with smoke. Lines of hose were soon laid to play on the fire from every direction and by 9 o'clock the damage from fire had been stopped. Little more than the third floor of the Nance store was damaged by fire.

No effort was made to remove stocks except in the Nance store where the fine harness and carriages with some of the stock were removed through a rear door. The finest part of the Nance stock of caskets was stored on the second floor, where it was impossible to reach them, and a dozen fine caskets in hard wood cases down stairs were damaged. Mr. Nance could not estimate his loss accurately but said his stock was valued at $10,000. He has $6,000 insurance and thinks his loss will be covered.

Garner Bros., furniture dealers, occupied three floors of their building, 207-209 South Third street, and one floor of the Nance store. They valued their stock at $18,000 with insurance amounting to $10,000. Before involving they thought that their loss would be covered.

The damage to their stock, except on the third floor of the Nance store, where fire damaged somewhat, was from water which soaked down through the floors from the Nance building. The firemen endeavored to save the Garner store from this cause. The damage to the Nance stock was entirely from water.

No idea as to the origin of the fire is held by any of the property owners. There was no fire on the third floor nor are any wires known to have been arranged so that the fire could have been started from their being crossed.

Both buildings are owned by Mrs. Georgia Beyer, Fifth and Monroe

DOUBLE EGG IS LAID BY A SOUTH SIDE HEN

Freaks have appeared in Paducah frequently in the last few months, and the latest is a double egg owned by J. B. Wild 1029 South Eleventh street. It is on display at Ward's grocery. When the outer shell was broken, a perfect egg was found inside. The shell of the inside egg was as hard as outer shell. On the shell of the inside egg, the letter W can be seen, perfectly made.

FICKLE AIR

FOOLS AERONAUTS IN ATTEMPT TO BREAK RECORD.

St. Louis to Washington Trip Ends at Golconda, After Circling Around for Whole Day.

Golconda, Ill., May 2.—Captain C. De F. Chandler, of the United States signal service, and J. C. McCoy, of New York, failed to break the long distance balloon record and to win the Lahm cup. The balloon "America," which left St. Louis at 7:20 o'clock Tuesday evening landed five miles north of Golconda at 6:30 Wednesday afternoon.

To have won the Lahm cup the balloon would have had to go more than 420 miles. Golconda is only 150 miles from St. Louis.

Changeable air currents demonstrated to the aeronauts that they could not win the cup and for that reason they made a landing near here. The balloon was brought to Golconda in wagons.

RUBY HARRIS AT LARGE.

She did not wish to go, and her friends instituted habeas corpus proceedings but were defeated. Jailer Evans did not desire to keep her in jail and offered her the liberty of his home. Last night she slipped out and today policemen and detectives are trying to locate her.

DOCTOR'S ALL AGREE THIS TIME.

The most eminent writers on Materia Medica, whose works are consulted as authorities and guides in prescribing by physicians at all the different schools of practice, extol, in the most positive terms, the curative virtues of each and every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In fact it is the only medicine, put up for sale through druggists for the cure of all diseases of the mucous surfaces, as nasal catarrh, throat, laryngeal, and bronchial affections attended by lingering, or hang-on-coughs that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

Do not expect too much from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will not work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. Nor is the "Discovery" so good for a sudden attack of acute cough, but for the lingering, obstinate, hang-on-coughs, accompanying catarrh of the throat, larynx and bronchial affections. It is a most efficacious remedy. In cases accompanied with wasting of flesh, night-sweats, weak stomach and poor digestion with faulty assimilation, and which, if neglected or badly treated are apt to lead to consumption, the "Discovery" has proven wonderfully successful in effecting cures.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, such as the catarrh of the nasal passages, or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if it is used as directed. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour risings in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and all other manifestations of impure blood. In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood-cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 231 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has

ACID IN THE BLOOD.

A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable yet simple and harmless prescription, which anyone can easily prepare at home:

Mild Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

This mixture is said to relieve almost any case of Rheumatism, which is nothing more or less than sour blood—too much acid in the system, which in damp, cool weather forms into minute crystals about the joints and muscles, causing the awful pain and misery of Rheumatism.

The above mixture is said to force the kidneys to purify and sweeten the blood, causing the Rheumatic pain and swelling to diminish with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach.

It is worth while giving this a trial, anyhow.

Opera Company Arrives.

Mr. Harry Leavelle and his "Beggar Prince" opera company arrived yesterday and Monday will open an engagement at The Casino at Wallace park. The company is just from a tour and is 20 strong, not counting the orchestra. The company is well rehearsed in a large repertoire of operas, and the first week will produce three operas.

POLICE BLAMED

MURDEROUS ATTACK ON UNITED STATES SAILORS IN CUBA.

Blue Jackets Had Attended Orderly Banquet and Were Returning to Wharf.

Santiago, Cuba, May 2.—The conflict here yesterday between the sailors and police followed an orderly banquet which was given by a party of first-class seamen of the cruiser Tacoma. At one o'clock in the morning the men separated and 12 of them went to another cafe. They were not intoxicated. A police captain, named Lay, who was in citizen's clothes, had been watching the cafe all evening, with seven or eight policemen to support him.

At about 2 o'clock in the morning seamen started for the wharf with the intention of boarding the Theo-may. Lay claims the seamen started the trouble, and the sailors claim that Lay, without provocation, caused the disturbance.

As the enlisted men of the Tacoma had been hindered by the police on their way to the wharf, Ensign Brislin decided to walk slightly ahead of the party.

Suddenly he heard a revolver shot, and immediately afterwards the police charged with revolvers and machetes. Brislin received an ugly cut on the arm and was felled to the ground three times.

Use Revolvers and Machetes.

As the crowd of seamen came up the policemen emptied their revolvers at them, at the same time attacking the Americans with machetes.

A fierce fight ensued with the result that Henry L. Lee, a fireman of the Tacoma, will probably die of a compound fracture of the skull, caused by a machete, and a gunshot wound in the right breast.

Something of the quietness which has existed all day over the city from the primary, was felt on the river this morning, and boats were scarce. Business was dull and the loafers around the wharf evidently had found temporary better diggings, as they did not show up until late in the day. The river is coming up the hill faster than it went down, the rise since yesterday being a foot and a-half. The stage May 2 last year was 13.9.

The John Hopkins did not arrive as expected yesterday, but came in before dinner today with a high trip. After cleaning up the local business, the Hopkins left for Evansville.

Trains have not run on better schedule time than the Lee packets in the last two weeks. The Peters Lee arrived at noon today from Memphis and left in an hour or so for Cincinnati.

The Kentucky will arrive from the Tennessee river tonight or in the morning and wait until Saturday before returning to that river.

The City of Saltillo also came in late today from the Tennessee river but had a good trip of passengers and freight. After several hours' stay here the Saltillo went to St. Louis.

One of the biggest trips the Clyde ever carried out of the city for Tennessee river points was aboard when that packet left last night.

The Georgia Lee will arrive Saturday from Cincinnati on the way down to Memphis.

It is probable that the two tugs, A. J. Beardsley and Lizzie Archbold, will be let into the river from the ways this week. The iron castings have been made and the woodwork practically is done. One large was let off and one taken on the ways today for repairs.

The Meter at the dry docks will get three rudders instead of the one rudder now used. New guards will be built and other repairs made.

A RAILROAD COLLISION.

A railroad collision broke traffic and ties up the road, interfering with the proper operation of the system on which it happens just in proportion to the gravity of the accident. Something very similar has happened inside the human body when constipation manifests itself. The proper operation of the human system is interfered with and comfort and health suffer in proportion to the gravity of the case. Chronic constipation is a serious condition with which medical men frequently have to deal, and they recognize the restoration of elasticity and strength to the muscles that control the bowels. To accomplish this physicians of the better class are now using with much success a preparation of 1-2 oz. Fluid Extract of Senna, 1-2 oz. Rochelle Salts, oz. Aro-Samaranga, 30 grains Bicarbonate of Soda ¼ oz. water and 1-2 ozs. Glycerine. A dose of a teaspoonful of this is administered at bedtime and before each meal, the treatment being continued until there is free movement of the bowels. The prescription can be compounded by any good pharmacist.

It has demonstrated its ability to CURE in thousands upon thousands of cases of blood and skin diseases until it is regarded today as the most reliable and safest of all blood medicines.

Pure blood means strong, vigorous bodies, well nourished systems, steady nerves, and all the machinery of life working in harmony with nature—thus insuring perfect health. Impure or diseased blood means the opposite of all this; any impurity, humor or poison in this vital fluid acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the various skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition, as the result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Chronic Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, while Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that continue to grow worse as long as the poisons which produce them remain in the blood.

All blood troubles are not acquired.

Through the blood disease germs are transmitted from one generation to another. Parents hand down a tainted circulation to their children, and we see its effects manifested in various ways. The skin has a waxy, pallid appearance, the eyes are often weak, glands of the neck enlarged, and, as the taint has been in the blood since birth, the entire health is usually affected, and the system weakened from want of nourishing, health-giving blood.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proven itself "The King of Blood Purifiers." It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this life-stream pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of the taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic S. S. S. has no equal, and it will be found especially bracing to weak, anemic persons.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE

Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles are cured permanently by S. S. S., and so thorough is the cleansing of the blood that no trace of the disease is left to break out in future years, or to be transmitted to offspring. If your blood is out of order begin the use of S. S. S., The King of Blood Purifiers, and restore this vital fluid to its normal healthy condition, and enjoy the blessing of good health. Book on the blood and any special medical advice desired will be furnished free of charge to all who write.

STRANGE DEATH

MATTIE CRITCHFIELD FALLS OVER ON KITCHEN STOVE.

She Thought She Had Drunk Poison In Cup of Water Before She Had Ate.

Mattie Critchfield, colored, 51 years old, employed as cook at the Hudson House, 220 North Fourth street, fell over on the stove this morning at 7:20 o'clock and without regaining power of speech died. Heart trouble is thought to have been the cause of her death.

The woman had not been complaining and went about her work as usual. She drank a cup of water about 7 o'clock and remarked a short time after that she believed something poisonous was in the water and that she drank it. Nothing was thought of the statement until she keeled over.

Jearline Fletcher and Myrtle Halton, white domestics employed in the boarding house, lifted her from the stove, which was cold. She did not speak, and Dr. J. T. Reddick was summoned, but the woman had died before his arrival.

Coroner Frank Baker sent the body to Andrew Watkins' establishment, 221 South Seventh street, and this afternoon an inquest will be held. The woman was married and her husband is running on a towboat. She has two sons and two daughters, and resided in the Dean property on Jefferson near Fifth street.

The case is the outgrowth of an ordinance passed several months ago by the general council which has the effect of reducing the rates of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company to the same rates provided for in the charter of the Home Telephone company.

Louisville Next Meeting Place.

Houston, Tex., May 2.—At today's session of the Woman's Home Mission Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Louisville was selected as the place at which the next meeting will be held. There was promised a spirited contest in the selection of the city, but after the first ballot, when Louisville secured 15 votes to Memphis' 9, and Savannah's 5, the fight weakened and Louisville was selected.

Tomorrow will close the session of the board for this year, and the feature of the proceedings will be the election of officers.

Daily Thought.

"Many failures in life come from trying to fly kite after the wind has reached its height and begun to die down."

THE OFFICIAL TEMPERAMENT.

There are men of personal integrity, and men of official integrity. The official integrity, the politicians dominate the latter kind of inquisitive honesty. It is usually an attribute of youth, enthusiasm and inexperience, and politicians have a maxim to the effect that it is a fatal blotish. They have a museum of proof of this fact, and they are not even convinced of their error, by the present success of the Roosevelt-Folk-Tom Johnson-Golden Rule
Jones school of politics. They say
"just wait."

The philosophy of their position is the philosophy of human nature.
Its principles are best illuminated by comparing the two brands of integrity exhibited in public office.
We are acquainted with the public man of pure life and unsullied career, who exacts of himself the most scrupulous regard for duty and honor; but who regards matters not coming under his immediate, personal jurisdiction as "none of his business." This sort of man avoids trouble, and as his career lengthens and his experience broadens, he is likely to limit the scope of his observations. He applies the same rule of conduct that pertains in the grocery, clothing, dry goods and hardware business.

The man of official integrity sees but vaguely the dividing line between his official duties and his rights and duties as a citizen. Whenever there is corruption, he is after it with a club. In the scope of his authority, he considers it his duty not only to scrupulously and sedul-ously subserve the public interest, but to see that every person with whom he deals acts justly toward the people.

This kind of office holder is breeding trouble for himself and annoying all the time. He is not making friends—just enemies. The politician sees it quickly. Sometimes he feels it. The inquisitive, prying, auspicious office holder, always exacting the highest degree of integrity from others, is only doing his duty.
When election time comes nobody is going to spend time and money and waste enthusiasm on a man, who just does his duty. He is expected to do that.

The office holder who attends to "his own business," is considered harmless by everybody; is recognized as upright by the best people; has made friends of those who wish to be left alone, and encounters no enemies. His friends will work for him; no man can say aught against him, and most people will speak well of him when he is mentioned. He is certain of retention in office as long as the public conscience remains quiescent.

There are, of course, other related reasons why the man who "attends to his own business" succeeds where the man of more severe convictions of duty fails. The man of mere personal integrity is usually of the more lovable disposition. His habit is to look for the best in everybody. He is more confiding and more considerate of the sensibilities of others. The man of official, or official integrity, begins with persi-cacious attention to details, and ends with suspicion of everybody. He is in danger of acquiring a habit of distrust that manifests itself in his every relation in life, and we dislike him personally. Casting a ballot is a personal matter, and most people are guided by personal inclinations in voting, regardless of how they talk on abstract subjects involved in the election.

It is the appreciation of this fact that marks the wise politician. It is in the man who combines such traits, natural and acquired, as appeal to citizens as voters, with integrity of the sort that commands the highest sense of duty from all who associate with him officially, that we recognize the ideal public office holder in a country like ours.

When a man employs a clerk, he wants one who not only will be honest, but who will please customers with his personality.

There is nothing gained in abstract reform movements headed by man of unpopular personality; nor is there anything but distress ahead for the party that selects its candidates merely because they are harmless and inoffensive. When the American people look more to the men and less to measures, and select officials as they would their employees, for their general fitness in temperament and capacity for public service, that service will be vastly benefited.

Possibly those captive balloons used during the Louisiana Purchase exposition were a path over the Mississippi valley, and that is the reason the McCoy-Blanchard gas bag couldn't hit the Washington trail.

Press dispatches state that in response to petition from the Kansas legislature President Roosevelt has pardoned January. We trust he will not be so indiscreet as to pardon April.

It took the Chicago Tribune several days to come right out and say it, but we read a slap for Taft in the first editorial the Tribune wrote on the presidential situation.

A St. Louis preacher says women should marry early in life. That seems to be the opinion of most men, who ask women to marry.

Up on Wall street they will remember for many a day the March fury that caught the Gates a jar.

The heir apparent to the Spanish throne makes a bad start by delay in keeping the first appointment.

streets, and the loss will be covered by insurance.

Incendiary Origin.

Chief Wood does not hesitate in saying he thinks the fire of incendiary origin.

"It started in the furniture store department in the middle of the third floor, and we had to cut through a wooden partition to get to it. By that time it had gained a good headway," he said. "We had a hard fight." The erection of the aerial ladder was delayed by wires, which had to be cut after their arrival, and was delayed by the fact that "Plow-handio", one of the truck horses, is ill and had to be left at the station.
In order to get the truck to the scene, we had to send back our hose wagon horses. The engine worked admirably and was needed. Our success in fighting this fire can be attributed largely to the fire engine."

The engine was stopped once, and an investigation revealed that a piece of broken steel valve had been pumped through the mains into the nozzle of the hose and had shut off the water. The piece of valve evidently came from the pump at the water company pump house.

There are several horses in the department ill and out of commission, and "Skeeter" 24 years old, was seen pulling No. 3's hose wagon.
"Skeeter" did well and made a sensational run.

The alarm was general and brought all companies to the scene, each making good time. Every fireman was employed in fighting the fire, and the work of the companies received much praise.

Truck Horses Both Sick.

Adverse criticism of the fire department from insurance men at the Garner-Nanco fire this morning and speculative comment from spectators were heard when some pieces of apparatus arrived late, but Chief Wood explained the lack of horses satisfactorily with the statement that both horses of the aerial truck are sick from pneumonia, and one of the fine pair is likely to die. A veterinary is working to save them and had they been used this morning, it would have killed both. The chemical wagon arrived at the fire promptly but the aerial ladder did not arrive until the horses had been carried back after it.

Chief Wood was happy this morning over the fact that the fire occurred in daylight. He said that had it occurred last night, the probable damage cannot be estimated, as the alarm would not have been given until the fire had obtained great headway. Fighting fires at night is much more difficult. The fire this morning was a nasty one to get at, as the smoke kept the firemen back away from the blaze. The firemen used their patent nose pieces but their eyes were unprotected. For hours after the fire was extinguished, water poured down from the upper floors, into which the firemen had rained
it steadily for an hour and a half.
The damage consequently cannot be told until the water runs out.

Taft Tabooes Politics.
Washington, May 2.—Secretary Taft, who has just returned to Washington, said that he had been to Ohio and returned in the same frame of mind as he left Washington; that is, he was determined to say nothing whatever about politics. He had found here a large accumulation of work, much of it the outcome of his southern trip, involving the reduction to form of data gathered by him and the proportion of orders and instructions to give effect to the various changes that he decided to make, particularly in the case of the canal work.

Atkins-Graham Wedding a Pretty Ceremony.

A beautiful wedding characterized by the charm of simplicity was that of Miss Elizabeth Adelaide Atkins and Mr. David Rawleigh Graham, last night at 9:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church. The auditorium early in the evening was crowded with the friends of the popular young couple. The church was effectively decorated with palms and ferns, arranged in a pretty embankment about the altar. Miss Courtie Puryear presided at the organ, rendering the Mendelssohn Wedding March for the processional and recessional, and "Hearts and Flowers" during the ceremony.
The only attendants were the ushers: Messrs. James Langstaff, Warren Sights, Charles Rieke, John Orme, Charles Kopf, and Thomas Settle. They preceded the bride couple down the aisle. At the altar they were met by the Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, who performed the ceremony very impressively.

The bride who is an unusually pretty and dainty girl, looked especially lovely. She wore an exquisite gown of white embroidered chiffon over white silk. The bride veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of lilacs-of-the-valley and bride roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple drove to the bride's home in Arcadia and left early this morning for Memphis, Chattanooga and other points. The bride's going-away gown was a tailored suit of grey and pastel blue with hat and gloves to harmonize.
Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be for the summer at "White Haven" the country place of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Atkins in Arcadia.

FINANCIAL INSANITY.

Novel Plea Brought Liberty to Boston Man.
Boston, May 2.—"Financial insanity" was the novel plea that today brought freedom to Henry E. Lane, formerly a prosperous business man of Wakefield, who has been in trial in the United States circuit court on a charge of criminally concealing his assets from his trustee in bankruptcy.

Insanity experts testified that Lane was afflicted with a mania for spending money and that he had no idea where it went. After a brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. A motion of the prosecuting attorney to commit Lane to an asylum was denied by Judge Dodge on the ground that the defendant was not legally insane.

Dickson, Tenn., May 2.—The town of Dickson has a colored inventor, Henry Gray by name, who promises great achievements in the inventive field. Henry is an employee of the N. C. & St. L. railroad at this place and for a year or more he has been at work carrying his invention of a car stop, or butting post, for use of railroads in stopping cars at the end of sidetracks, etc., to completion. The mold has been submitted to a number of expert railroad men and all pronounce it the most available thing of the kind they have ever seen. It is constructed of wood and iron and will resist the heaviest force that can possibly be put against it, having a resisting power of many tons weight. A patent has been applied for.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Benedict and daughter, Miss Helen have returned from Pittsburgh.

SPRING FEVER DAYS.

How To Avoid the Lazy Feelings That Come With Mild Warm Weather.

Spring fever days are here. They come with the advent of warm weather, and stay until frost—with some people.
Spring fever is not confined to this vicinity only. Every locality has it, to a degree.

Appreciated right, it is a Godsend, as it reminds you that you should put your body in good condition for summer, the hardest season of the year. The liver, the stomach, the bowels and the kidneys, the skin and blood, every organ and function needs attention, just as a locomotive does at the end of a run of a hundred miles, and the people who appreciate this fact are our healthiest people.

Osteopathy is the one natural treatment in all conditions of stomach, liver, bowel, kidney, skin and blood disorders. Without the use of any medicines, with proper diet, with the dry hot air treatment, where indicated, the osteopathic treatment is an assured and permanent cure.

I should like to talk to you at any time about the treatment for yourself, or any member of your family, and the best testimonials I can offer you of the treatment are the commendations of Paducah people whom you know well, who have taken the treatment.

Especially is Osteopathy a rational treatment of ailments peculiar to children.

Phone me at 1407, or call at my office, upstairs, 516 Broadway, and I shall be pleased to advise with you.

PRESENT IT TO POPE.

Americans Have Plan of Affording Outlet To Sea.

Rome, May 2.—When in Rome recently Martin Maloney of Philadelphia and Richard C. Kerens, of St. Louis, discussed with several prominent Vatican officials and members of the American Episcopate a project for the formation of an American syndicate with a capital of $15,000,000 for the purpose of purchasing a strip of land 65 miles long and 1,000 feet wide, extending from Rome to Civitavecchia. The plan was, after enclosing this strip with high walls and planting trees on each side, to present it to the pope, thus affording the Vatican an outlet to the sea.

Hurricane On Gulf.

San Antonio, Tex., May 2.—A special from San Juan Batista, Campeche, Mexico, says: A hurricane of terrific violence swept over this district last night, causing great loss of property and the death of several persons. The cacao groves for some distance up and down the coast are completely ruined, causing a loss of millions of dollars; crops of various kinds were leveled to the ground, and great trees in the forests were snapped like pipe stems. It is feared there may have been heavy loss to shipping if the storm extended into the gulf.

Murder in First Degree.

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—The jury in the case of Barney Burchett, charged with the murder of Mrs. Mercedes Donovan, on the night of February 9 last, today brought in a verdict of guilty in the first degree. Mrs. Donovan was killed on a crowded street, having been struck by a man with a guitar. A mob searched the city in an effort to apprehend the murderer. Burchett was later arrested.

COUNTING UNUSED MONEY.

Experts Are at Work in Treasury Department.

Washington, May 2.—A committee of experts has just completed counting all the "unused" money in the vaults of the comptroller of currency at the treasury department. In all it amounted to $176,000,000. The count was ordered by Mr. Ridgeley, the present comptroller. In spite of the fact that the money in the great vault where this sort of money is kept has not been counted for six years, and in spite of the fact that during that period something in excess of three billion dollars of money has been issued from the vault, not a cent of the money was missing and the accounts as kept by the bookkeepers of the issue division and the count of the committee of experts agreed to a cent. Mr. Ridgeley was prompted to order the count because of the chance thought that a long time had elapsed since the last count and because of the always present possibility of sheets of money going astray in spite of the precautions taken to prevent it.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CHRONIC CRANKS.

We all have met people who are continually kicking. Life seems a terrible thing to them. They seldom smile. Something dreadful is going to happen, nothing is ever just right, and they worry and fret and complain from morning till night. Their trouble seems to be just a bad disposition but this is seldom so. In most cases there is one of two things the matter with them: either their nerves or their digestion is responsible. Both come from the same thing—stomach trouble. A man or woman whose nerves are tied in knots is bound to be a mighty poor company. The same thing is true if what they eat don't digest properly. No wonder they grumble, I don't blame them.

I have seen Cooper's New Discovery change the whole disposition of people in a month's time simply by getting their stomach in shape again. Even the expression on their faces was altogether different. The worried, tired, fretful look changed to a peaceful happy expression and the lines of care disappeared altogether. Many people tell me about this in letters. They seem to think it a miracle. It isn't. It's just the stomach working again.

Here's a case of this kind: "I suffered with my stomach for thirteen years. Nothing I ate seemed to digest. I also had chronic constipation, and was tired, dull, irritable and dependent all the time. I found it difficult to attend to my duties as traction agent at this place. 'Six different doctors treated me and all gave different opinions.' 'I began taking Cooper's New Discovery, and to my surprise it helped me from the first. I have gained ten pounds in three weeks and am feeling fine. 'My work now is a pleasure, where before it was drudgery.' J. R. Smock, Cicero, Indiana. We sell the Cooper medicines."

FRANCE WILL NOT JOIN FORCES AGAINST ENGLAND

Brussels, May 2.—Additional information seems to confirm the reports that King Leopold's efforts to secure the support of France against the policy of Great Britain towards the Congo have failed. Count Von Lambergh-Sturum, who opposes the King's Congo policy, declined the foreign office portfolio in the cabinet, which Interior Minister DeTroos is trying to form when certain documents referring to the Congo were communicated to him.

THE GREAT SENSATION.

Of Fort Wayne, Ind., Rapidly Becoming the Talk of the Whole Country.

Really a Remarkable Thing.

Sensation upon sensation followed one another in rapid succession at Fort Wayne, Ind. A peculiar compound has made so many remarkable cures within the last few months it has become the talk of the whole city. In one night the reporter counted fifty-six people that said they were cured by the remarkable discovery that is called Root Juice, and many of them were people whose word could not be doubted. Some of the cures reported seemed like a miracle. Mrs. E. G. Moore, of 612 Webster street, had suffered for several years with intense stomach trouble and female weakness. During that time she was treated by a number of doctors and used many kinds of medicines. All had failed to give more than momentary relief. Root Juice cured a lady friend that suffered in a similar way. Although Mrs. Moore had almost given up hope, to satisfy her husband she concluded to try the Juice treatment. After using four bottles she had gained sixteen pounds and was able to care for her children and do her housework. The lady is so well known and liked in her neighborhood that all her friends think there is nothing like Root Juice. Mr. A. R. Beck, of 427 Superior street, said that he would not take a thousand dollars for what the Juice did for his stomach and kidneys. Mr. A. R. Holye (an old and highly respected citizen), residence, 502 La Salle street, was completely cured of a bladder trouble after using three bottles of the compound. Mr. Chris. F. Hostman, of 314 West Jefferson street, suffered a great deal with rheumatism before he took the remedy. He is now entirely cured. It would take a whole newspaper to tell of the many wonderful cures the Juice has made in Ft. Wayne, Ind., alone.

OVER THOUSAND ARRESTS IN PARIS

May Day Trouble Culminated There Last Night

Teamsters Out in Boston and Three Thousand Iron Workers Quit in Prison.

TEN PER CENT GIVEN RAISE

Paris, May 2.—The expectation that May day would pass off without violence was not realized. Last night the working center in the vicinity of the trades unions' headquarters became the scene of serious disturbances in which many persons were more or less injured.

Stringent precautions were taken by the authorities and a stern determination to repress disorders, however, brought tranquillity before midnight.

The sum total of today's operations was over 1,000 arrests, 20 persons, including policemen and citizens, badly injured and a great number of persons suffering from contusions or from being trampled.

3,000 Iron Workers Strike.

San Francisco, May 2.—Three thousand men engaged in the iron trades in this city and around the bay walked out of the shops today because their employers had refused an eight hour day. The Union Iron Works, the Risdon Iron Works and 20 other shops are completely tied up. Twenty-seven shops granted the eight hour day for which the fight is being waged, and 10 per cent of union men in the iron trades continued at work.

Teamsters Out in Boston.

Boston, May 2.—Except for a spirited struggle of teamsters, and a passive contest of garment workers, the May day labor difficulties in this city were confined to brief strikes among the boilermakers, carpenters, cement workers and several minor trades, involving 2,000 men, nearly all of whom have returned to work with their demands allowed.

In the teamsters' strike the principal incident was the request of the firms affected for militia protection for strike breakers. The governor issued a statement to the effect that the police force was sufficient to keep order.

DIPLOMA MILLS

WILL BE INVESTIGATED BY MEDICAL BOARDS.

Confederation Adopts Resolutions and Appoints Committees to Take Steps.

Chicago, May 2.—A definite step was taken yesterday by the confederation of state medical boards towards the elimination of undesirable medical colleges which issue diplomas in medicine to incompetent and ignorant students. A committee was appointed by the confederation to investigate the class of medical colleges throughout the country and report as to their qualifications to carry out the work for which they were established.

The action of the confederation marks the preliminary step in the campaign which it is expected will be followed by the national convention of the Medical association which will meet in Washington this month. Prior to the adoption of the resolution Dr. N. S. Davis, dean of Northwestern University Medical college, had something to add to the sweeping statements regarding the incompetency of certain colleges. He said any medicaster armed with a few pill bottles and a supply of test tubes could obtain a state charter to establish a medical college, or, rather, a factory, out of which would be turned "fully qualified" meddles at so much per head.

PADUCAH IN FICTION.

Another Magazine Writer Uses Name of "Pride of the Purchase."

There must be something in the name Paducah that especially appeals to the writers of fiction. From the memorable "one-story house with the two-story porch" mentioned by Chas. Dickens, in passing, in his "American Notes," we are over and again in the limelight. Rudyard Kipling and George Ade have each paused to do Paducah honor, and would take a whole newspaper to tell of the many wonderful cures the Juice has made in Ft. Wayne, Ind., alone.

It took ten years to perfect the delicious flavor and dainty crispness in the real Toasted Corn Flakes. Ten years mind you!

And not a flake was placed on the market until we were satisfied that it was perfect. The public quickly showed its appreciation. It was such a delightful change from the tasteless, insipid breakfast foods.

So the demand became enormous—widespread. Our mills were soon overtaxed. We ran far behind our orders. Never before had a food gained such popularity in so short a time.

Then came the ever-waiting imitator. In the space of a few weeks the market was flooded with miserable counterfeits.

Being wholly unable to reproduce the flavor, the pirates juggled with the title—called their worthless products "Just as good" Corn Flakes. Others stole the name outright, for unfortunately the law does not prevent.

But there are ways by which you can be absolutely certain of getting the genuine. They may fool you once by the name; they may fool you by the package; but they cannot fool you in the taste after you once eat the original product. And remember

CHAPTER XXII.

DUNCOMBE was out of the room in a very few seconds. The others hesitated for a moment whether to follow him or not. Spencer was the first to rise to his feet and move toward the door. Lord Runtun and Pelham followed a moment or two later. Outside in the hall the house was perfectly silent.

Duncombe reached the library door just in time to find himself confronted by half a dozen of the men and women servants coming from the back of the house. With his hand upon the door knob he waved them back.

"Be so good, Mrs. Wootton," he said to the housekeeper, "to keep better order in the servants' hall. We could hear some girls calling or laughing in the dining room."

"Indeed, Mr.," Mrs. Wootton answered, with some dignity, "the noise, whatever it was, did not come from the servants' quarters. We fancied that it came from your library."

"Quite impossible," Duncombe answered coolly. "If I require any one, I will ring."

He passed through the door and looked it on the inside. In half a dozen hasty strides he was across the room and beside the smaller apartment where he had left the girl. With a little gasp of relief he realized that she was there still. She was pale, and a spot of color was blazing in her cheeks. Her hair and dress were a little disordered. With trembling fingers she was fastening a little brooch into her blouse as he entered. A rush of night air struck him from a wide open window.

"What has happened?" he called out. "I am sorry I called out. I could not help it. A man came here—through the window. He talked so fast that I could scarcely hear what he said, but he wanted that paper. I tried to make him understand that I had not got it, but he did not believe me—and he was rude."

Duncombe shut down the window, swearing softly to himself. "I cannot stay with you," he said, "just now. The whole house is alarmed at your cry. Listen!"

There was a loud knocking at the library door. Duncombe turned hastily away. "I must let them in," he said. "I will come back to you."

She pointed to the window. "He is coming back," she said, "at 12 o'clock."

"Do you wish me to give up the paper?" he asked.

"No."

"Very well, I will be with you when he comes—before then. I must get rid of these men first."

He closed the door softly and drew the curtain which concealed it. Then he opened the library window and a moment afterward the door.

"Come in, you fellows," he said. "I scarcely know what I was doing when trie torch in my study. I'll fetch that."

He brought it out. The progress of a man from the road to the small window, toward which Duncombe glanced every now and then apprehensively, was marked by much destruction. The intruder had effected his exit either in great haste or in a singularly unfortunate manner. He had apparently missed the gate, which at this point was only a small hind one, and in climbing over the fence he had broken the topmost strand of wire. He had blundered into a bed of wallflowers, which were all crushed and downtrodden, and snapped off a rose tree in the middle. Below the window were distinct traces of footmarks. Lord Runtun, who held the torch, was becoming excited.

"Duncombe," he said, "there is something which I have not told you yet. I have had numerous reports in about the car and was able to trace it as far as Lynn, but they all agreed in saying that it contained only two persons—the driver and the man who called himself Fielding. What became of the girl?"

"I have no idea," Duncombe answered steadily.

"Of course not," Lord Runtun continued. "But don't you think it possible that—without your knowledge, of course—she may be hidden somewhere about here? That cry was not like the cry of a housemaid. Let us have the whole place searched."

Duncombe shrugged his shoulders. "As you will," he answered. "I am certain, however, that it will be useless. There is no place here where any one could hide."

"Your servants may know something," Runtun suggested. "I have already questioned them," Duncombe answered.

"Come along, Mr. Spencer," Lord Runtun exclaimed. "Let us search the grounds."

Spencer shook his head. "Waste of time, Lord Runtun," he answered. "If you really want to discover the whereabouts of this missing young lady and she should by any chance be close at hand, I should recommend you to induce Sir George to let you search the room to which those footprints lead."

"The library," Duncombe interrupted quickly. "Search it by all means, if you like. I have done so myself already."

Spencer was facing the house. "The library?" he remarked reflectively. "Ah!"

He stooped down to light a cigarette. Suddenly he felt Duncombe's hot breath upon his cheek. In the momentary glow of the match he caught a silhouette of a pale, angry face whose eyes were flashing upon him.

"This isn't your affair, Spencer. Shut up!"

Spencer blew out the match deliberately. They both followed Lord Runtun to the library. Pelham was standing in the middle of the room. He had the appearance of a man listening intently.

"George," he asked sharply, "what is on the north side of this room?"

"The wall," Duncombe answered. "And beyond?"

"A passage and the billiard room," Spencer seemed dissatisfied.

"I fancied," he muttered—"but I suppose it must have been fancy. Do the women servants use that passage?"

"Of course! Upon my word," Duncombe added, with a nervous little laugh, "you all seem to be trying to make my house into a Minskine and Cooke's home of mystery. Let us go into the dining room and have a whisky and soda."

"Not for me, thanks," Lord Runtun declared. "I must go back. The real object of my coming here, Duncombe, was to see if the Mr. Spencer who called at Runtun House today was really Mr. Jarvis Spencer, and if so to ask him whether he would help me."

"To what extent, Lord Runtun?" Spencer asked quietly.

"To the extent of recovering or attempting to recover the papers which were stolen from the Baron de Rothe," Lord Runtun said. "The Baron was a guest in my house, and I feel the occurrence very much. He will not let me even mention the matter to the po-

The Northern Servant Problem.

The servant problem was under discussion and "experiences" were being related. Several women stopped talking at the same moment, and the silence, which had lasted nearly two seconds, was broken by a young man, who said: "But, ladies, that is all, nothing to what happened to me last week. My cook left me, you know, for no earthly reason except that she told the chambermaid we started the help." "The ideal, well, I went to the Intelligence office, and after a long search found the girl I wanted to take Maggie's place. She answered every question to my satisfaction until I asked her, 'Why did you leave your last place?' Then she got red in the face, threw her head back and said in an angry tone: 'Because I wanted a change. Why did your last cook leave?' And before I could answer she turned away, saying, 'You'll not suit.' Now, isn't that dreadful?" And then all the other women told "dreadful" stories. —New York Tribune.

Simple Enough—"The teddy hasn't the money now," said Della, "but ye kin have the ice an' she'll pay ye on Saturday." "But," protested the new ice man, "sposh! she ain't got the money then?" "Well, if she ain't got the money then ye kin take yer ice back." —Philadelphia Press.

Several Disputes Have Arisen Over Boundary Between United States and Mexico.

LINE OF GRANITE PILLARS.

Washington, May 2.—If it had occurred a few years ago the dogs of war would be growling along the Rio Grande, but in those latter days the triumph of reason lends Ellihu Root and Henry Clay Greel to talk it calmly over in the diplomatic reception room at the department of state and the attorney general to instruct the federal law officers in New Mexico to suspend all proceedings and drop the case. Any differences, however slight, between the United States and its next-door neighbor are to be lamented, but perhaps this one will serve an important purpose as a peaceful precedent to show the other American republics how easy it is to preserve friendly relations during irritating circumstances and settle neighborly disputes without getting angry over them.

A short time ago, under an order of the United States circuit court of New Mexico the marshal of that district undertook to eject a large number of Mexican families from the homes they have occupied for many years back on a muddy flat lying between the city of El Paso, Texas, and the Rio Grande. The land the occupancy is claimed by the Campbell Real Estate company of El Paso, which brought suit in the federal courts to dispossess the Mexican occupants who hold it under titles descending from a man named Ponce de Leon, to whom it was granted by the Spanish government many years ago. The circuit court took jurisdiction, rendered judgment in favor of the American claimant and ordered the United States marshal to execute the judgment by ejection. The Mexican ambassador reported the matter to Secretary Root, and the latter finding that the land in question was involved in a controversy over the boundary line between Mexico and the United States, requested Attorney General Bonaparte to order the district attorney of New Mexico to intervene for the protection of the interests of the United States and to file a bill to enjoin the judgment on the ground that the court issuing it has no jurisdiction.

Attorney General Bonaparte issued the necessary instructions, the United States marshal was forbidden to interfere with the settlers, and the question was transferred from the courts to the department of state, where Secretary Root and the Mexican ambassador are now arranging for its arbitration. Our courts can determine county and state boundaries, but international boundaries are settled by the diplomatic branches of the governments involved. The circuit court of New Mexico cannot pass on international questions, and went entirely outside its jurisdiction when it attempted to dispossess actual residents claiming Mexican titles to land which may be a part of Mexico or possibly a part of the United States—a doubtful matter which remains to be decided.

It is simply a question of fact, and the ownership of the land in dispute can only be settled when it is determined whether the Rio Grande changed its course by "accretion" or "erosion."

The Rio Grande is a very uneasy river. Sometimes it is a furious torrent; a few weeks later, its passions having subsided, it will be only a string of stagnant pools lying in a desert of sand. When the Rio Grande gets on the rampage in the rainy season and when the snows melt on the mountains it disregards the maps and surveys and the rules and regulations that govern international boundaries and digs new channels for itself wherever it pleases. In 1827 the river ran much farther to the north than it does at present. It ran directly through the present location of the city of El Paso, and the greater part of the land occupied by the homes and business houses of that thriving place was then in the republic of Mexico. It was acquired by the United States, not by treaty or by conquest, but by the eccentric conduct of the river, which cut a new channel several hundred yards south of the old one.

Again in 1852 the Rio Grande by its ungovernable passions took another tract of territory from the republic of Mexico and presented it to the United States. The floods of that season caused it to cut a new channel south of the old one, and, in the course of time, the town was built up to it. Immediately after this change in the channel General Emory of our army, and Jose Salazar, representing Mexico, made a survey and fixed the boundary line between the two countries as the river was then, and in it stands at present on the maps. Between the time of their survey in 1852-53 and 1868 the river again changed its course and cut a new channel still farther south. This left wide flats of low swampy ground several square miles in area and valued at several millions of dollars by the present occupants, lying between the Emory-Salazar boundary line, the city limits of El Paso and the actual channel of the river. Under the treaties of 1881 and 1889 a joint commission was appointed to locate the lawful boundary between Mexico and the United States from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of California, consisting of General Anson Mills, of the United States army, and Javier Osorno, of Mexico, with a staff of engineers. They have been at work for nearly twenty years and have placed a line of granite pillars across the continent to show where United States territory ends and Mexican territory begins. In doing this work more than fifty controversies have occurred, but General Mills and Mr. Osorno and his successor, Mr. Puga, have settled them all amicably except two. One of the two is known as the "El Chamizal" case and involves the tract of land which is making the present trouble.

OUSTER SUIT

ANOTHER ACTION AGAINST THE STANDARD IN OHIO.

State Would Not Suffer If Trust Is Banished—Motions Overruled To Quash Present Indictments.

Findlay, O. May 2.—George H. Phelps this afternoon filed a suit against the Standard Oil company, its subsidiary companies, and directors, asking that they be enjoined from doing business in the state of Ohio, and claiming they are operating against the provisions of the Valentine anti-trust law. Mr. Phelps, in a journal entry filed later, stated he and the people he represented were ready to furnish a bond in the sum of $100,000 that the people of Ohio would not want for the necessary oil products should the companies be ousted as prayed.

Circuit Judge Duncan late this afternoon overruled the motions to quash the indictments against the Standard Oil company and its constituent companies, but sustained demurrers to the indictments found by the grand jury in January, 1907. Judge Duncan stated he would be ready to hear the first trial the week beginning May 13. Prosecutor David will endeavor in the meantime to obtain a ruling from the supreme court on some of the legal issues involved.
